VT AJ Bell Moderately Cautious Q2 2024 Report

As of 30/06/2024

Commentary

Global stock markets moved higher during the second quarter of 2024 amid signs that falling inflation rates might lead to central banks cutting interest rates and so the cost of borrowing.

Several central banks did cut interest rates during the quarter, including Canada and Sweden, but expectations for the UK and US to do the same kept being pushed back and this didn't cause too much upset on the markets. The prospect of UK interest rates staying higher for longer benefited the AJ Bell fund as 12% is held in cash, which benefit from higher rates.

Just over half of the fund's allocation to shares is in the UK and North America. Takeover activity continues to shine a light on the UK stocks and help to drive up the market. Interest in the tech sector also remained strong, helping to drive returns from US shares.

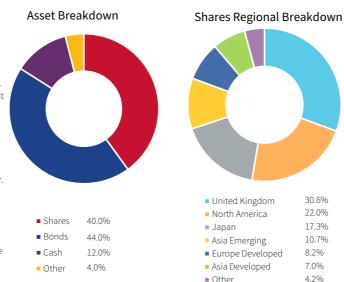

The fund benefited from its investments in shares in China and India during the quarter. Performance during the quarter was also helped by investments in corporate bonds, which rose in the period.

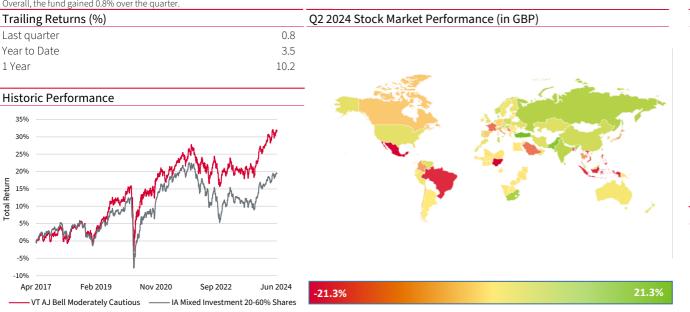

The fund's exposure to Japan suffered from unfavourable currency rates, while UK property exposure underperformed and dragged down returns in the period. The fund has a small weighting to shares in Developed Europe where markets were more volatile because of political upheaval in France.

Overall, the fund gained 0.8% over the quarter.
